

Random Lengths

This method of laying invokes the look of old paving stones where none of the joints line up. Yorkshire flags are still layed in this way which makes use of of a greater percentage of the stone blocks from the quarry.